

Sketch, one of the scheduled art shows for this semester is currently on display in the Art building foyer.

Sketching in visual and other art forms is similar to conditioning in sports or gathering information in science. In general, a sketch is a quick way to record ideas for later use, but also a way to precisely study a subject before starting final work.

Sketches displayed at this art exhibit were selected from over 2,500 pieces from students' sketchbooks, which account for a half of the class assignment for a semester. The selected pieces show an amazing amount of energy, creativity, dedication, patience, and knowledge in exploring and executing visual information in different art techniques.

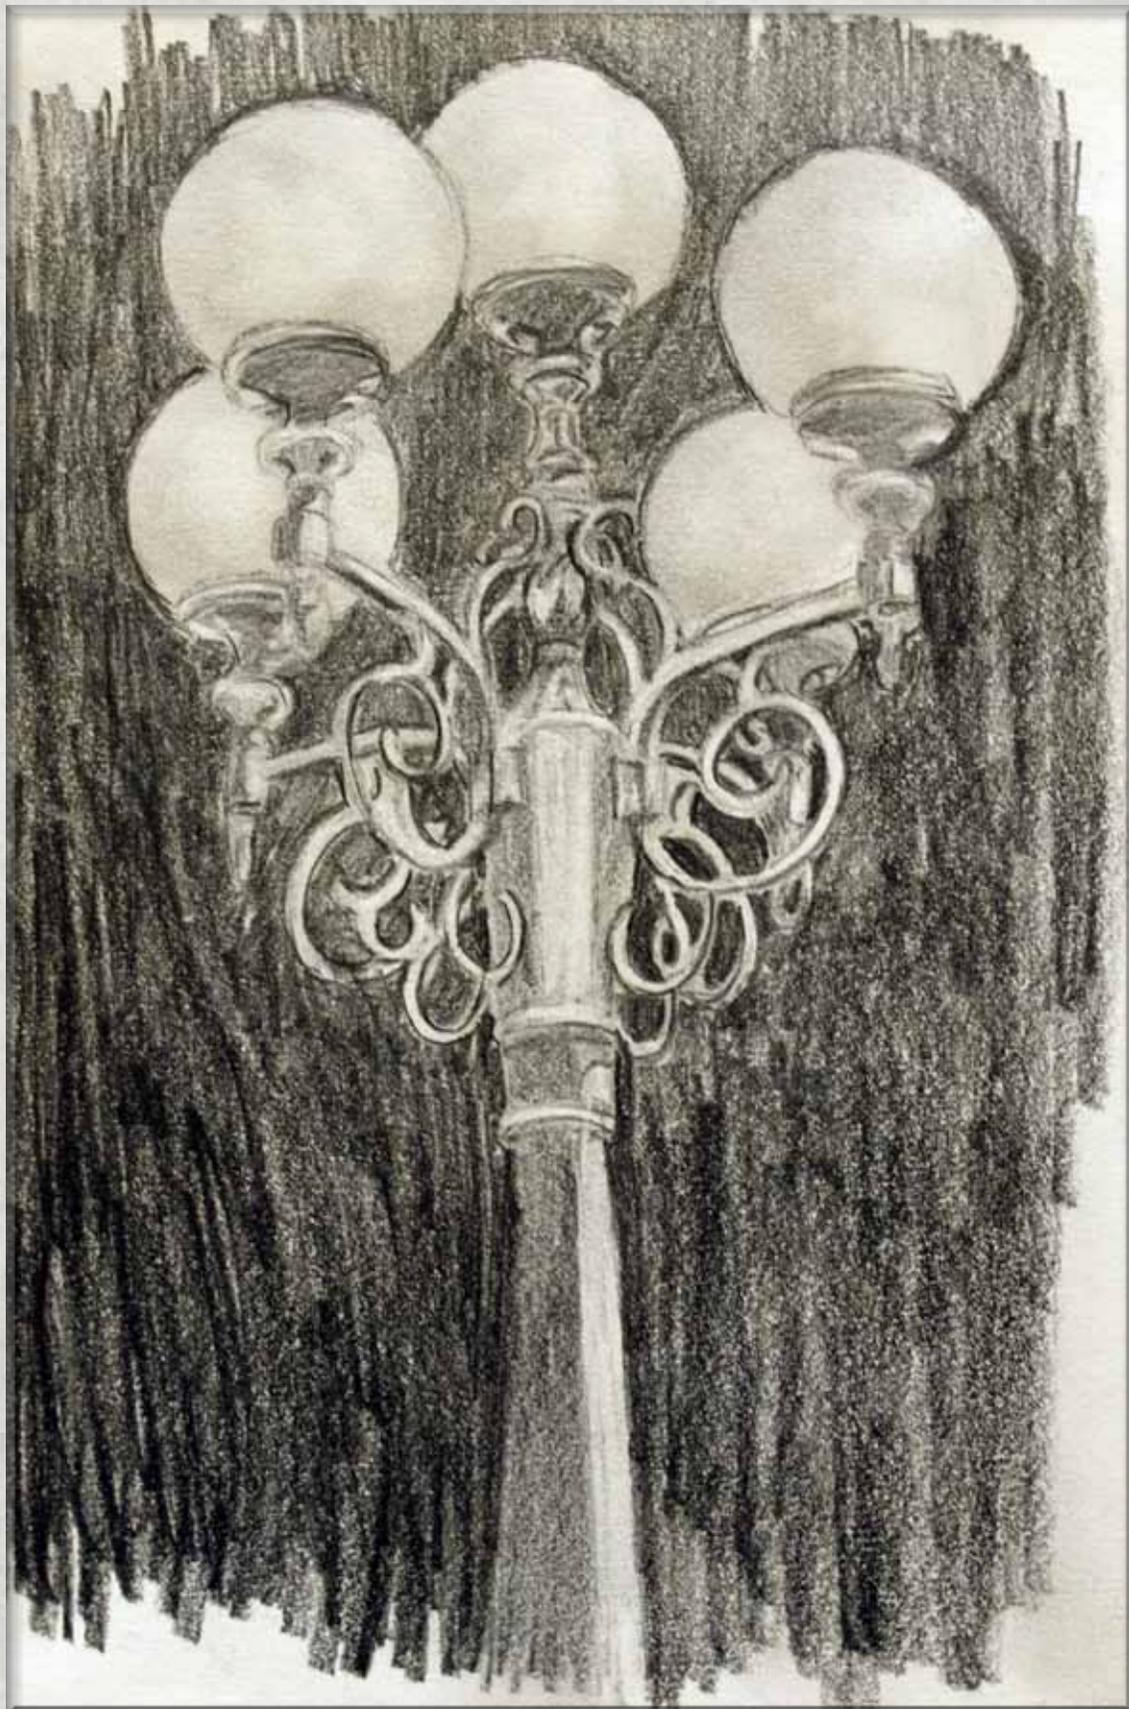

In addition to representing rapidly executed ideas, a large number of sketches displayed are completed art studies. The quantity and quality of the sketches exhibited exceed the assignment requirement and St. Francis students, once again, demonstrate excellence and high achievement.

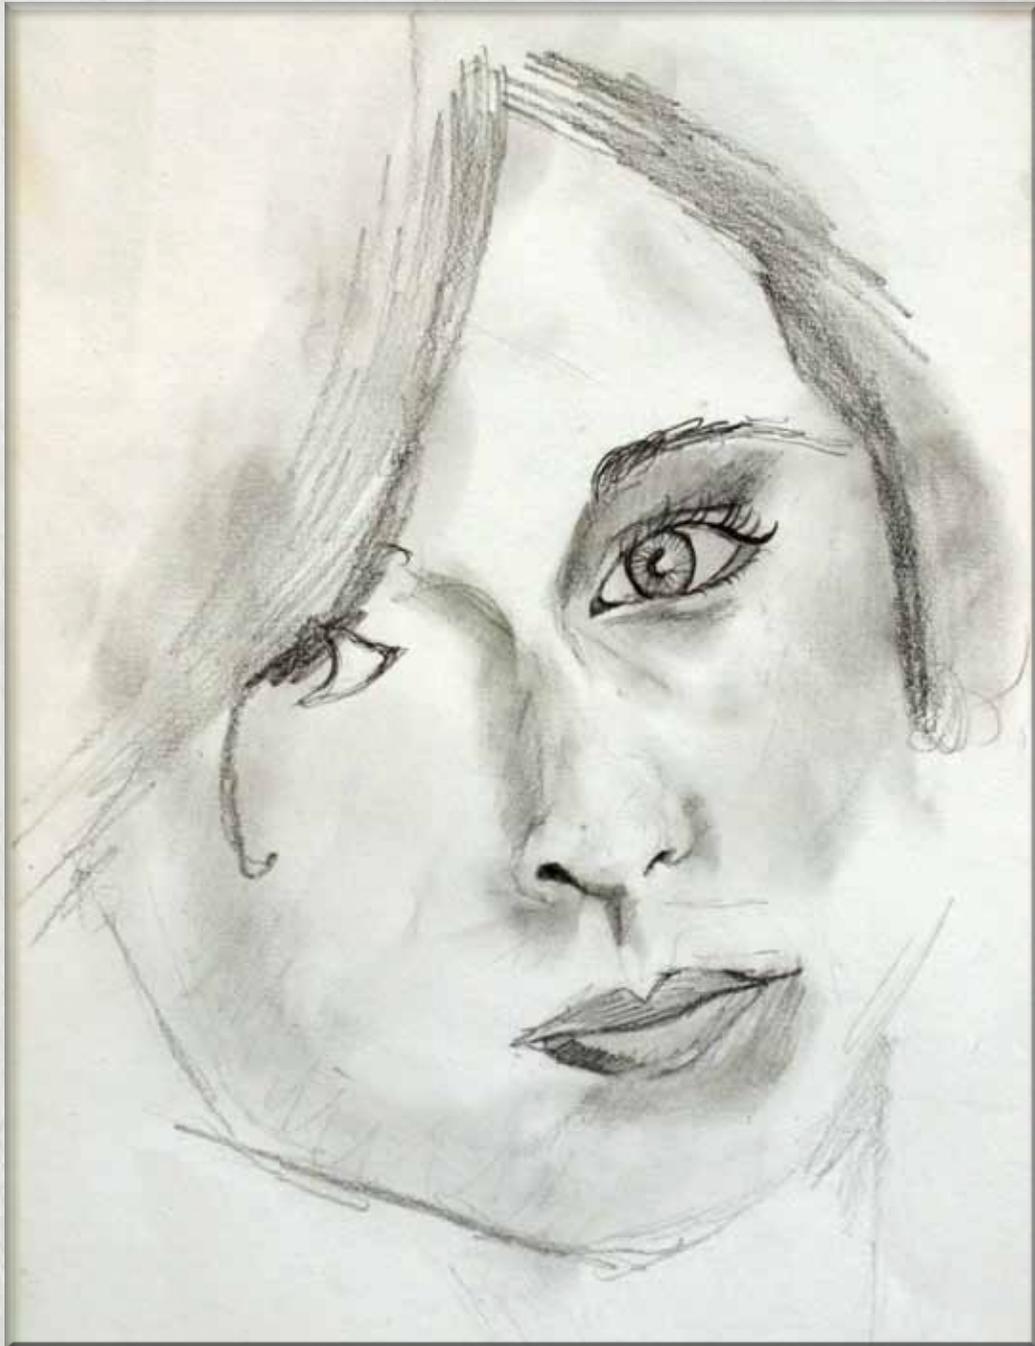

Tatiana Di Mugno, 10

Chelsea David, 12

Tatyana Krochta, 12

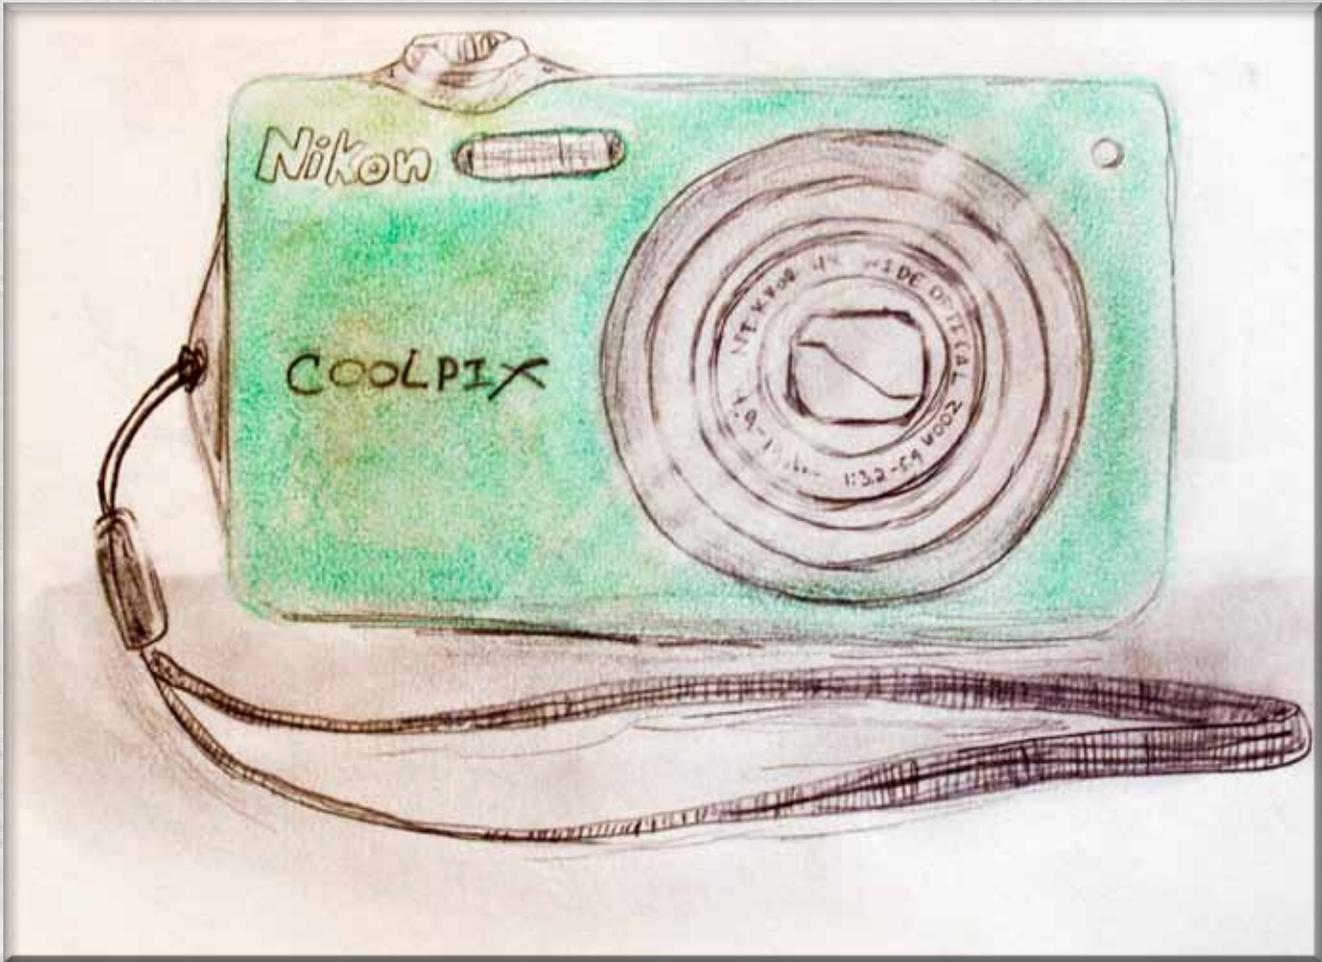

Rendall Gassner, 10

Elizabeth Scheid, 9

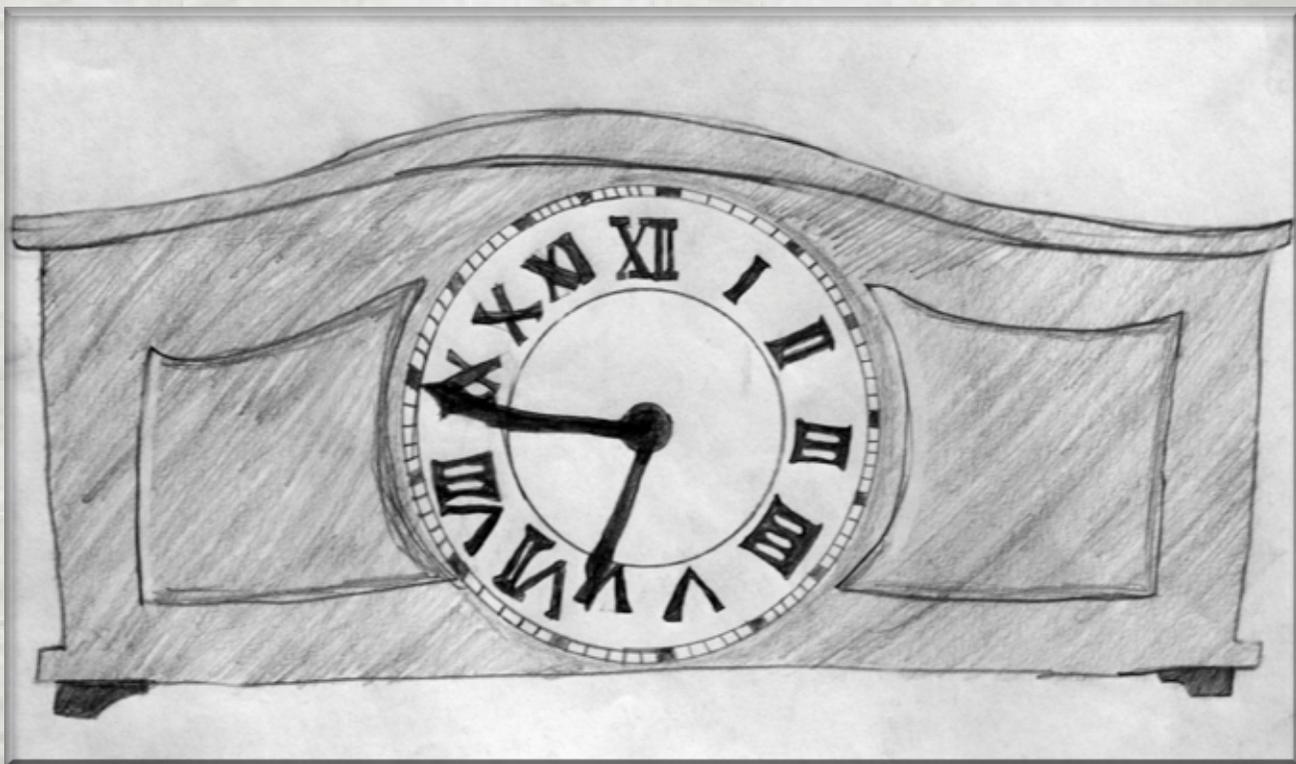

Rachel Shebert, 10

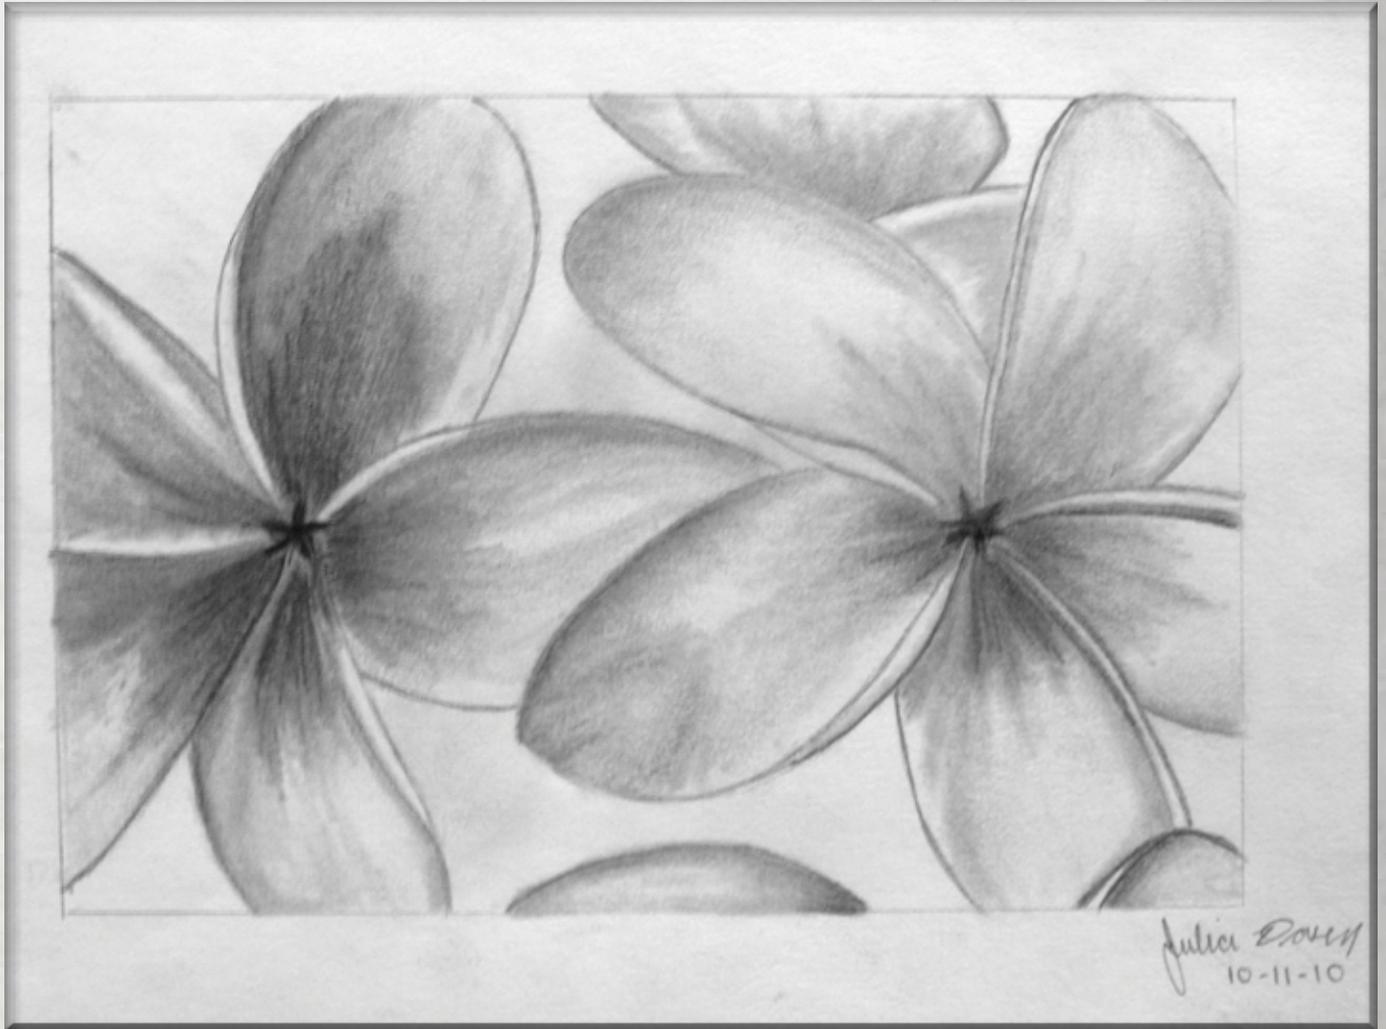

Alexis Arancibia, 10

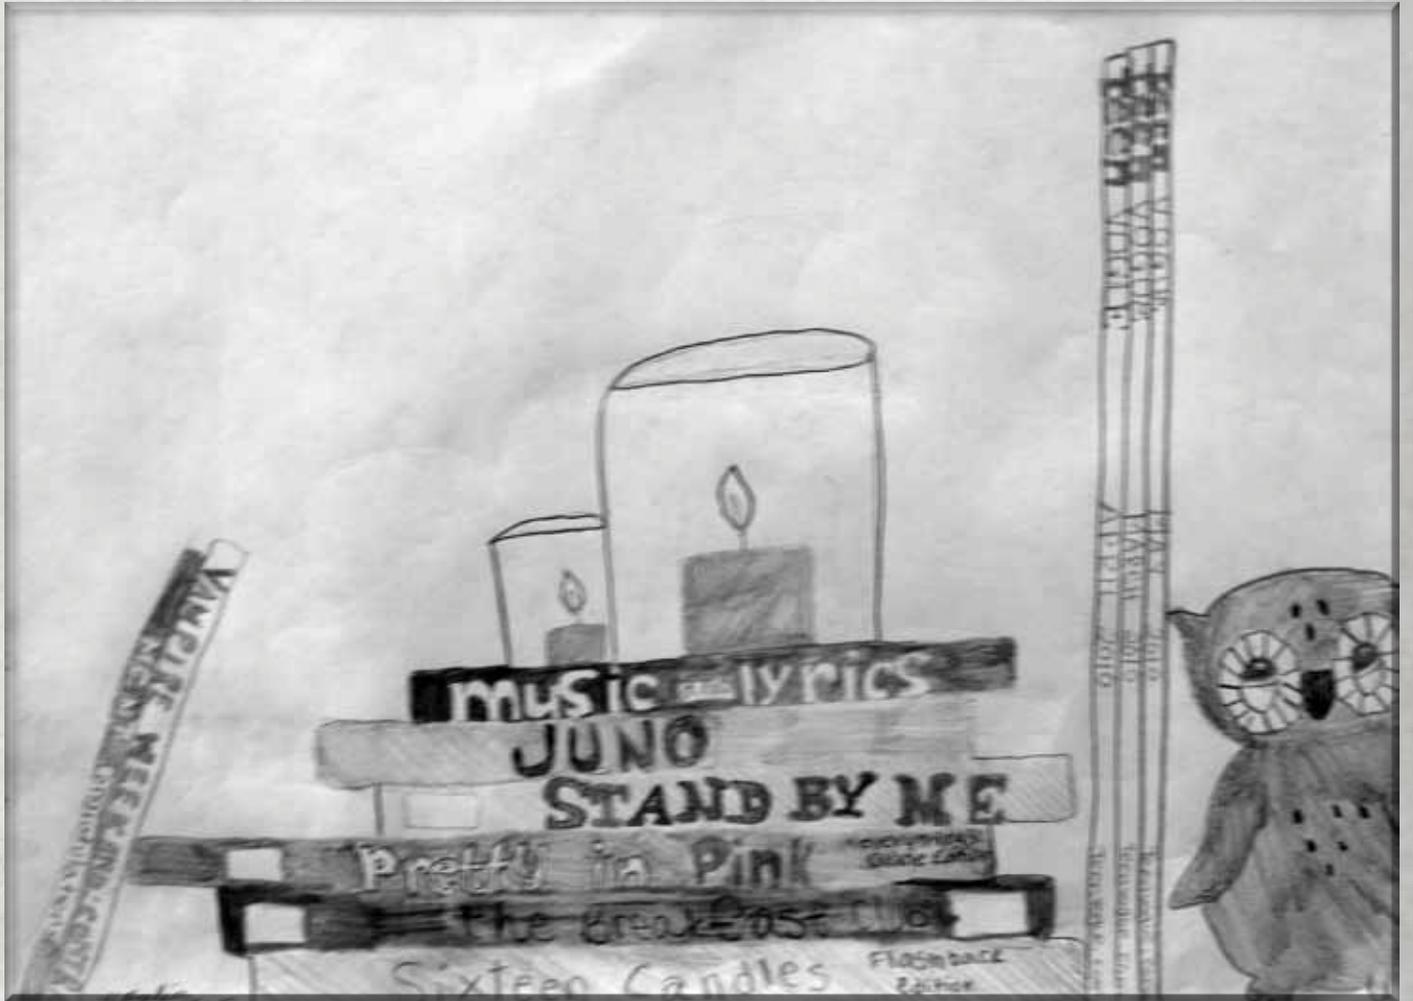

Rachel Shebert, 10

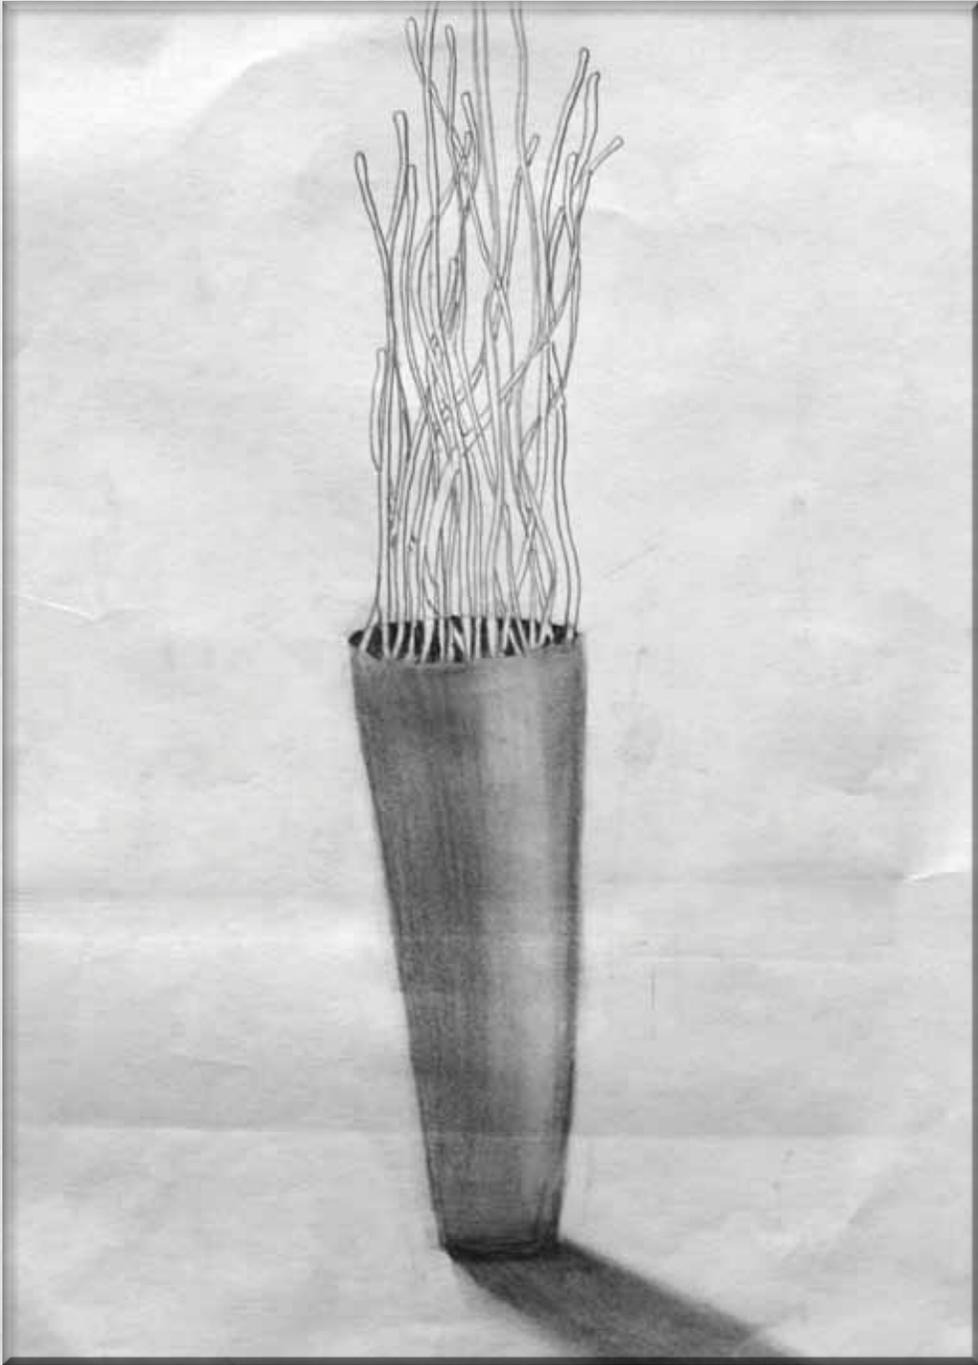

Alexandra Powell, 9

Julia Dasen, 10

Fabiana Davila-Viera, 9

Tatiana Di Mugno, 10

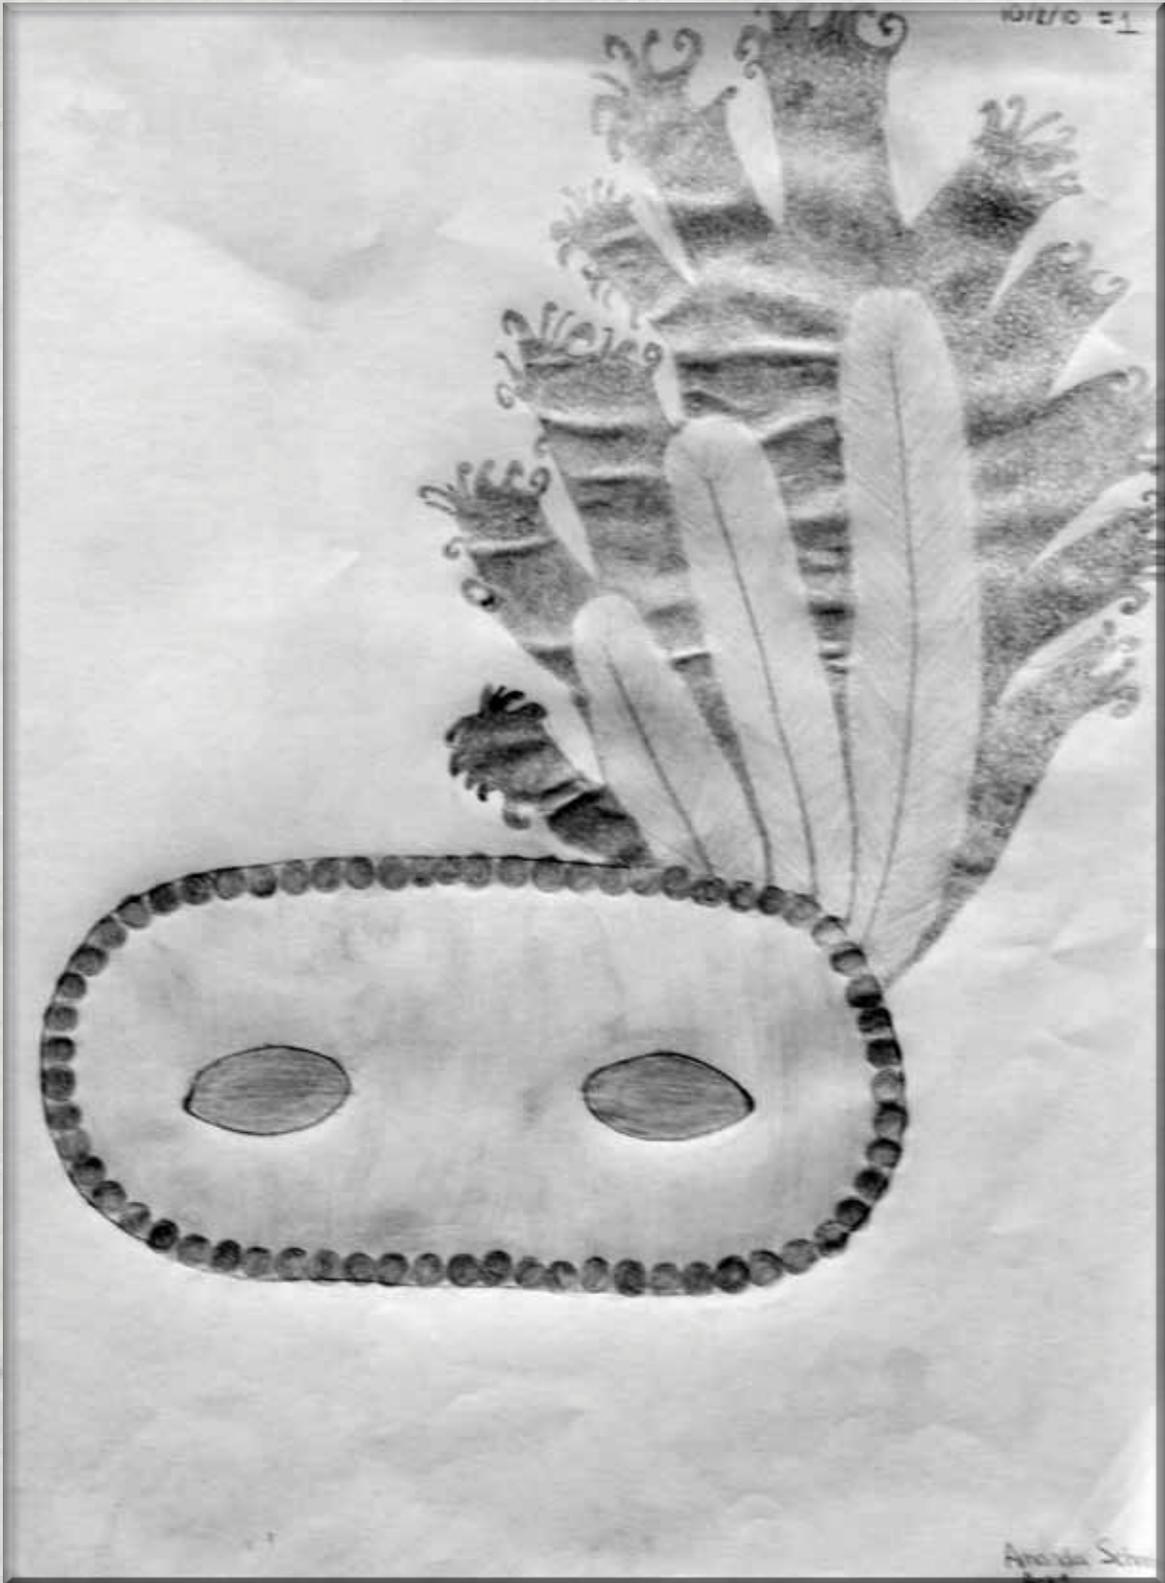

Margaret Chavez, 9

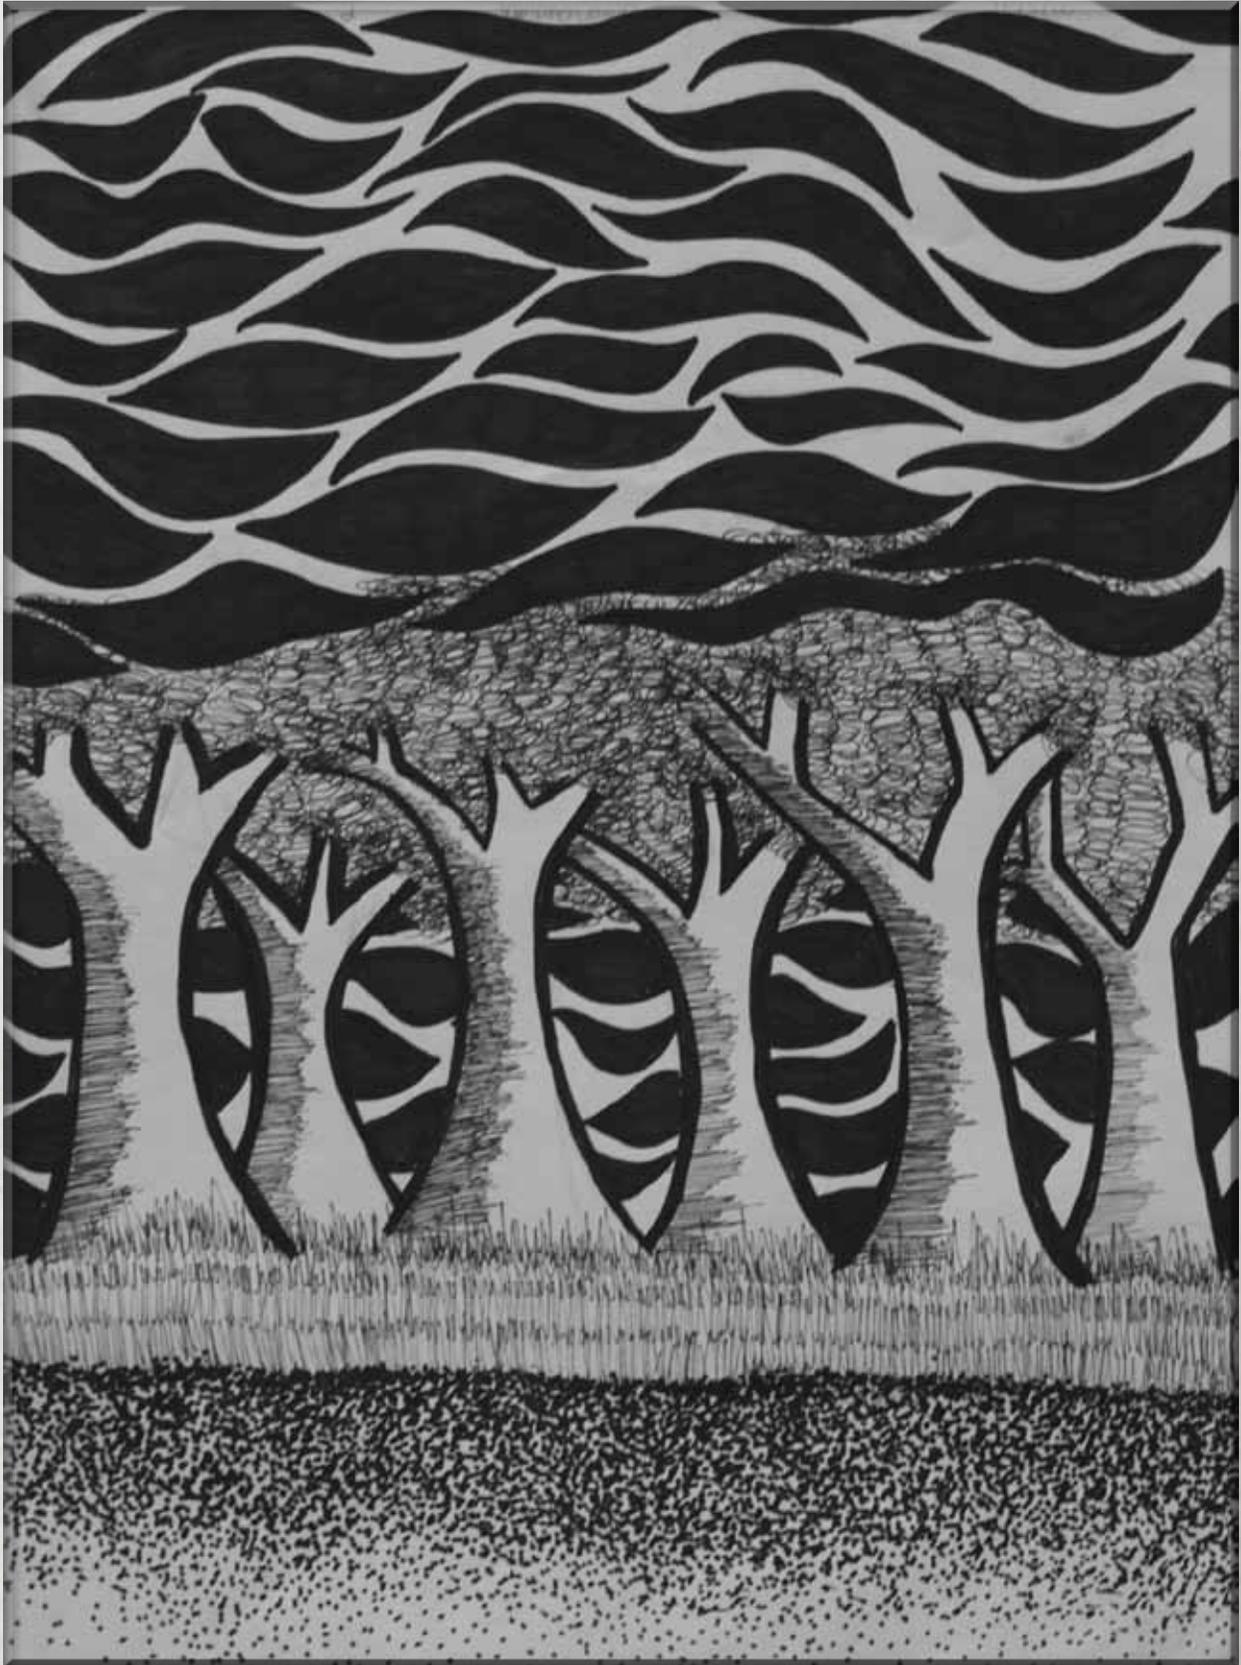

Haley Cooper, 12

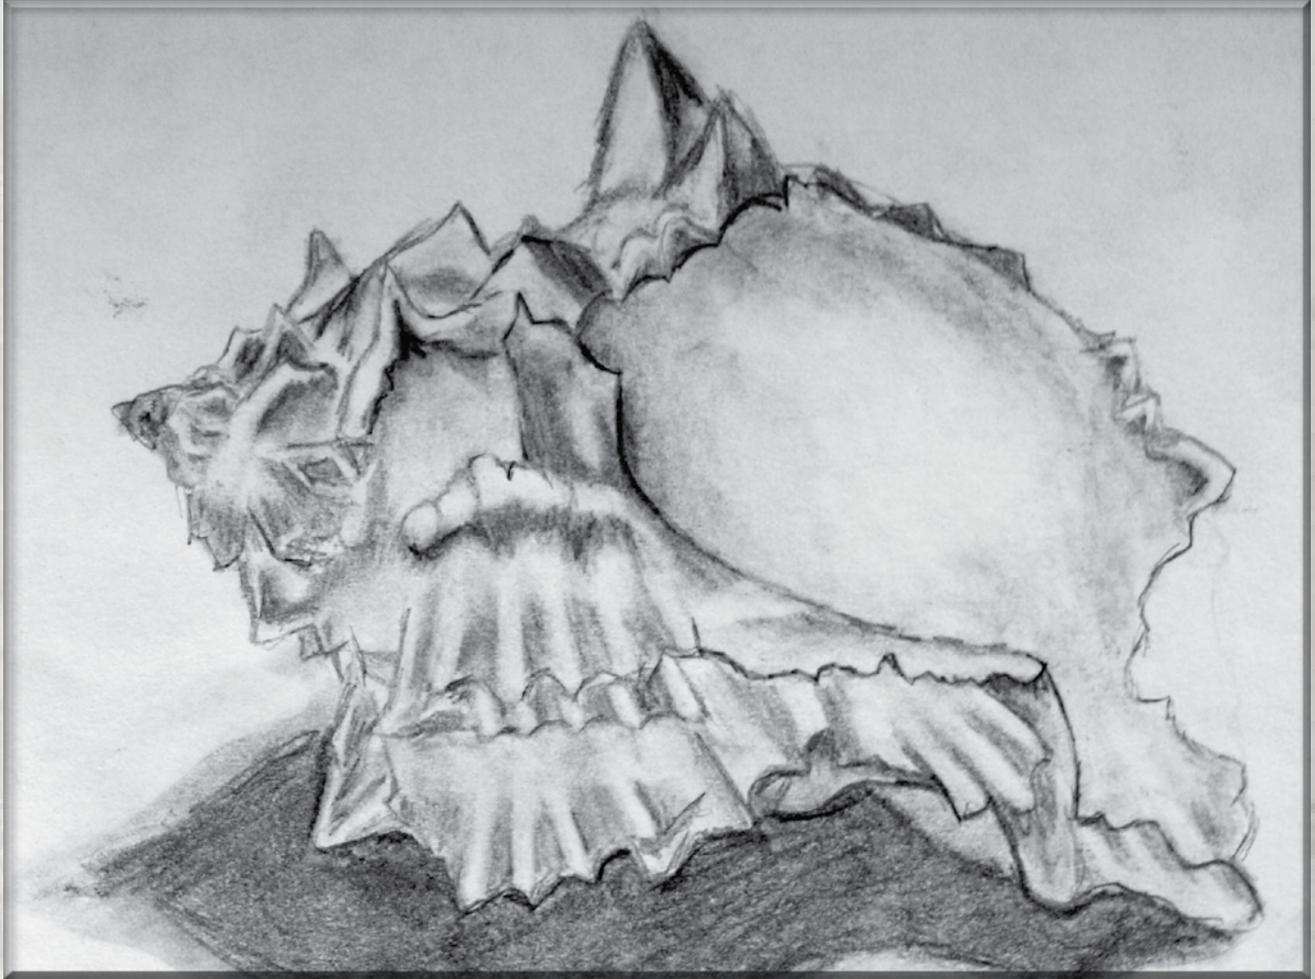

Carina Cater, 9

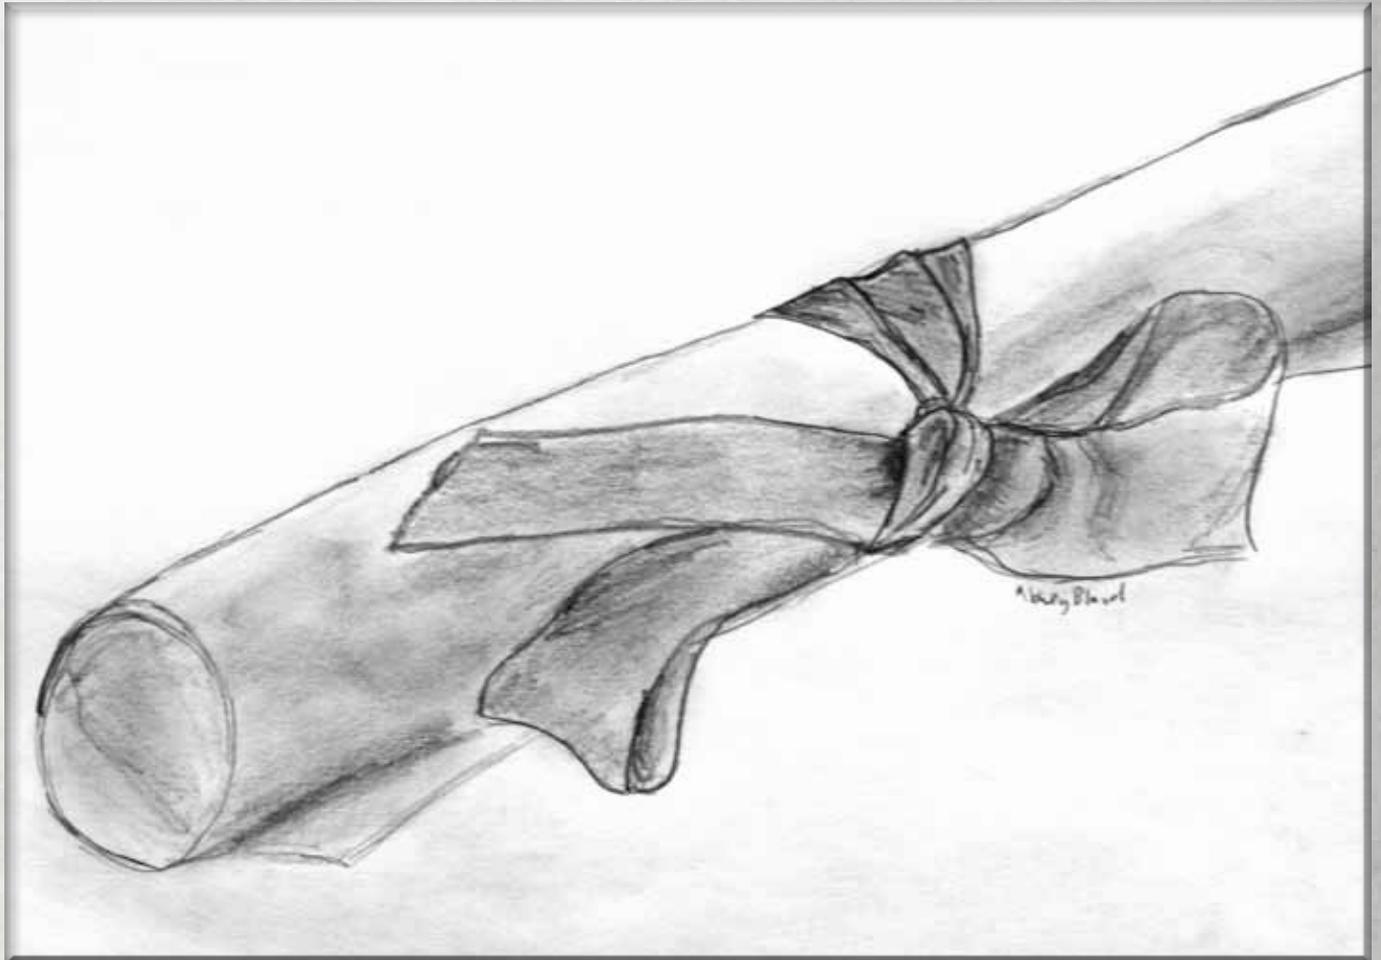

Amanda Schnabel, 9

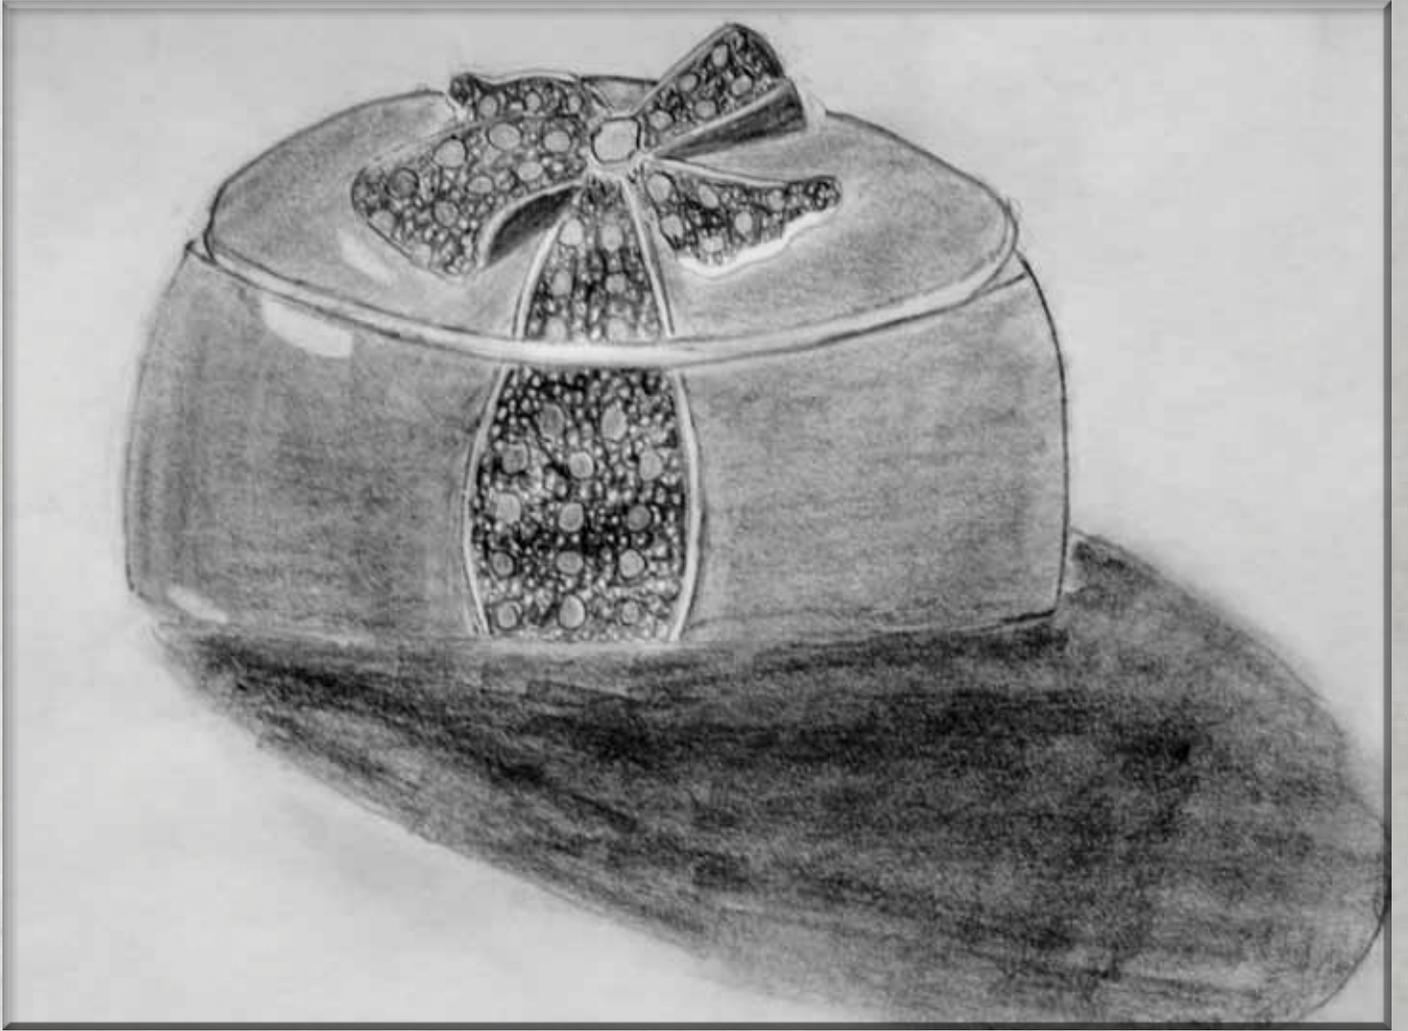

Fabiana Davila-Viera, 9

Clarissa James, 9

Abigail Bland, 9

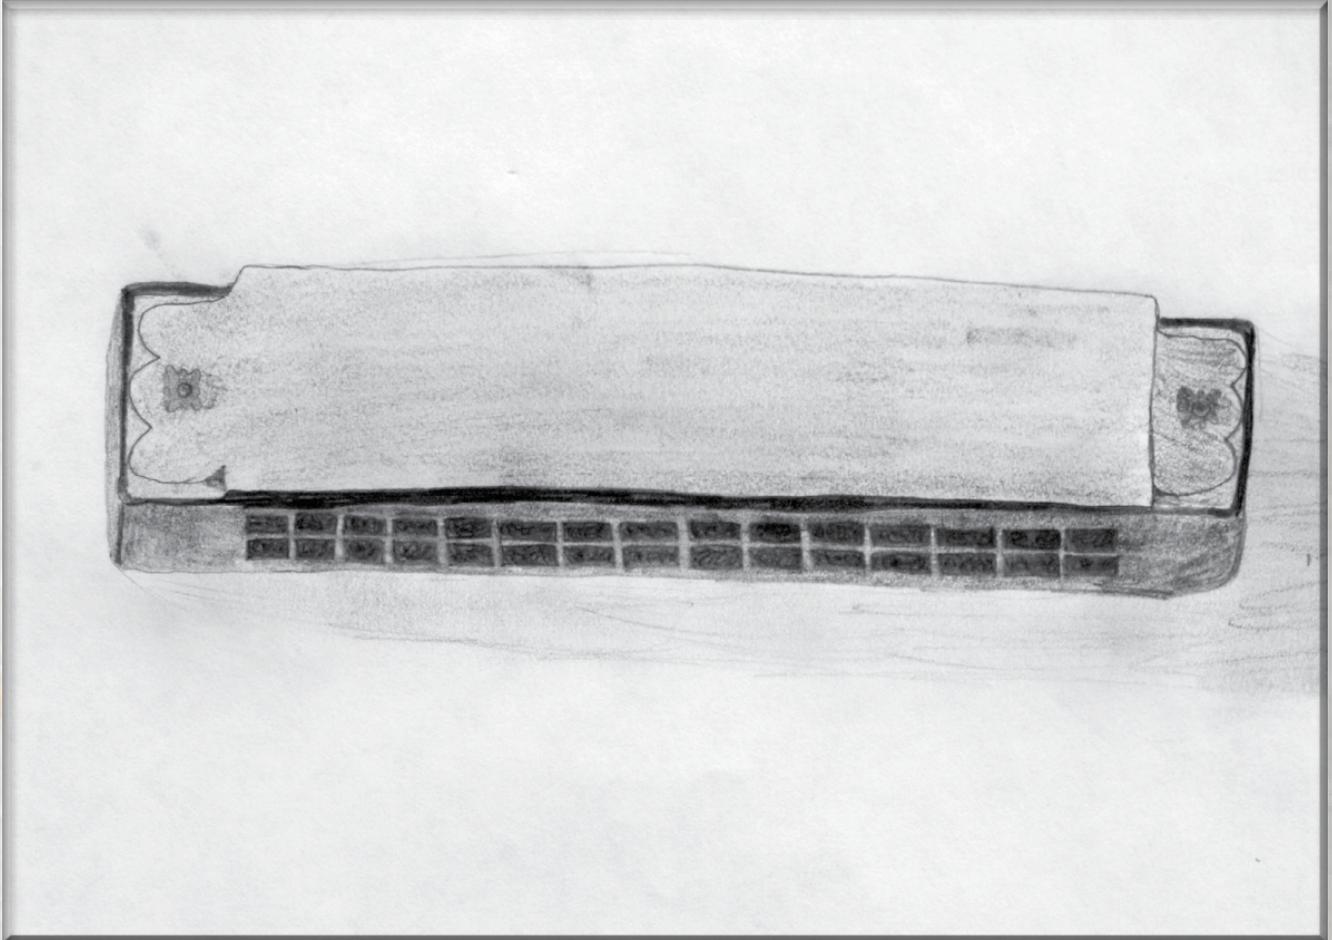

Marcela Sosa, 9

Alexis Arancibia, 10

Rachel Shebert, 10

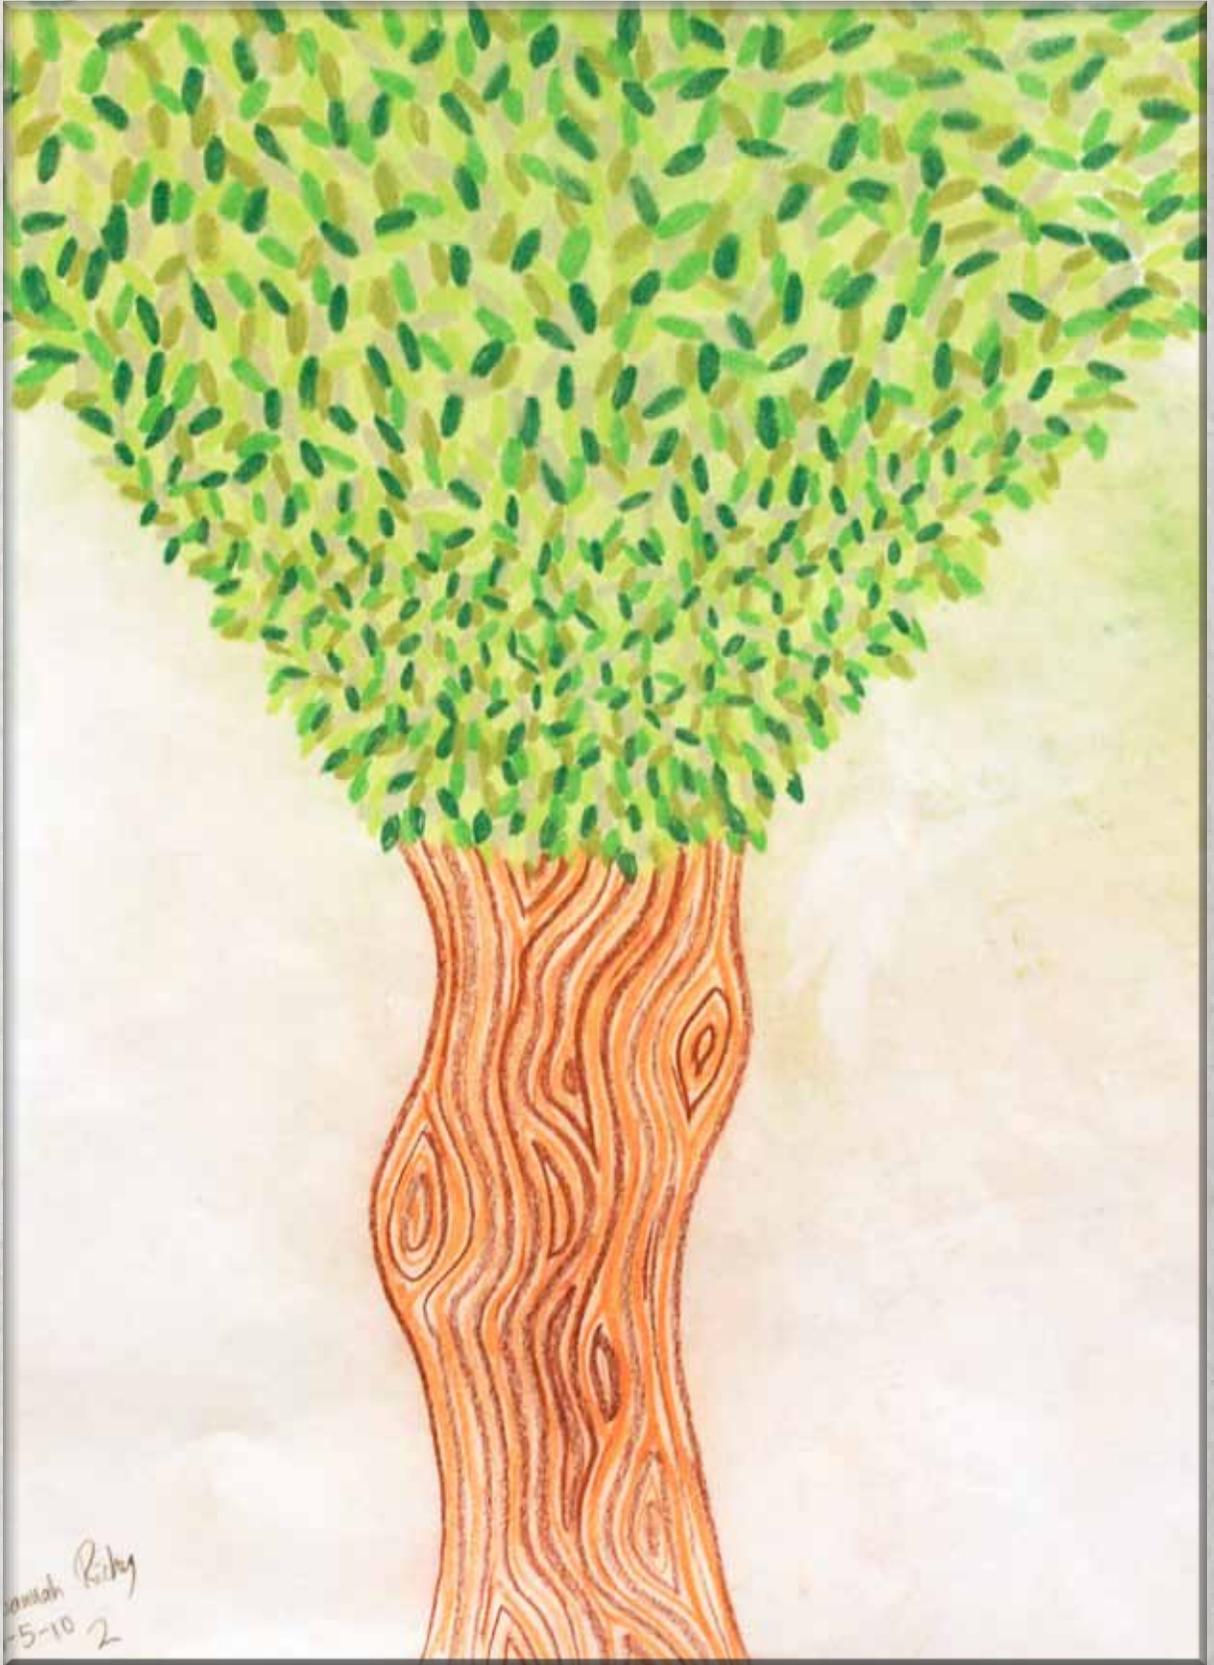

Madisen Grinnell, 9

Alexis Arancibia, 10

Sydney King, 9

Savannah Richey, 9

Martina Penalosa, 9

Imani McGray, 9

Hannah Takekawa, 9

Tatiana Di Mugno, 10

Rachel Shebert, 10

Fabiana Davila-Viera, 9

Imani McGray, 9