Where Should She Apply?

Yes Yes Yes!

Student will very likely be admitted, the school is affordable, student will love to attend!

Target

Student fits the admissions profile (see college website)

Several applications should fit this category

Reach

Any school that accepts less than 25% of applicants

Financial reach

Any school that exceeds a student's academic profile

Tip: Apply broadly to a range of schools with different academic profiles, cost, and locations.

What is a Lottery School?

Regardless of a student's academic profile, the most selective schools in the United States are what we consider to be "lottery schools."

Some good examples of lottery schools include: Ivy Leagues Schools, Stanford, Vanderbilt, Georgetown, UC Berkeley, UCLA, Johns Hopkins, University of Chicago
