ABOUT ME

Since leaving Sacramento in 2012, I have spent the last 8 years in undergrad and graduate school, and working.

I am in a transition until I begin working full time this coming Winter. While in Sacramento, I am eager to help students with difficult subject areas and navigate online learning. I am equipped to help students with the online learning transition as I recently had to adjust to online learning myself, while finishing my graduate degree this past Spring.

I have spent the past two years as a teacher's assistant for graduate students, focusing on writing and study skills.

In High School, when I was not rowing, I was in many honors/AP classes, including Honors Algebra 2, Honors Pre-Calc, AP Calculus I, and AP U.S. History. After my junior year, I spent a summer living in Paraguay, where I was able to develop my Spanish to near fluency.
