Sports Recap

By TALLULAH BAJAR '19

St. Francis athletics are well underway--winter and fall seasons are done, and spring is coming to a close very soon. Troubadours have victoriously earned great statistics and merits for their teams, personal gain, and overall athletic ability during the 2017-2018 year.

Fall and winter athletics--water polo, soccer, volleyball, cross country, tennis, golf, and basketball--ended with successful seasons, all being able to compete in Sac-Joaquin Section Playoffs. Water Polo concluded an outstanding season being selected to play in the first CIF Nor-Cal Division 1 championships, and seated as the No. 2 seed for the Sac-Joaquin Division I bracket, just behind Davis High School in the finals. Women's soccer was able to advance to the Sac-Joaquin Division I quarterfinals, unfortunately falling to Granite Bay in their final game. Soccer troubies earned an overall notable 16-6-4 record. Troubie golfers had a fantastic term, not only bringing home the Delta League title, but also shutting-out an undefeated season with eight wins. St. Francis volleyball had an amazing season this past fall not only making it to the Sac-Joaquin section finals, but also bringing in incredible seasons stats of 29 wins and 8 losses. Cross Country finished the Division II race as sixth overall and gained their sixth, Top 10 State Championship. The tennis team landed an incredible season: finishing 12-0 undefeated in the League and 19-1 overall. Tennis won their 28th Delta League title, and their first Sac-Joaquin Section title. SFHS basketball advanced to the Sac-Joaquin Section quarterfinals, and earned the Delta League Championship title for the third time having a 12-2 league record.

Spring season is currently underway with softball, swim, track, dive, and lacrosse. Varsity softball having recent victories over Clovis East and Davis, with two wins already in the books for league. Swim team starting off their season with key wins against Delta League competition, Pleasant Grove, Sheldon, and Grant. On the run for championships, Track and Field scoring several personal bests in the 800, 1600, and 3200 events at the Woody Wilson Invitational, and winning second place in the shuttle hurdle relay at the Arcadia Invitational. Dive recorded the top six finishers at their latest meet against Christian Brothers High School, and JV and Varsity lacrosse are fresh off a win against CB, dominating the Falcons with whopping scores of 19-5 and 14-3 at Holy Sticks.

A big shout out to our thriving, senior signees, looking to compete for their colleges next year:

- Maggie Pinkston: Lacrosse, Benedictine University
- Logan Kelly: Basketball, Lewis and Clark College
- Erica Craduer: Cross Country, Creighton University
- Isabella Rudis: Cross Country, Chapman University

Arts Recap

By FRANCESCA CHANG '19

This has been a good year for the Arts Department at St. Francis Catholic High School. During the fall, a production of The Boy Friend took place and during the spring, there was a production of Two Gentlemen of Verona, both which had amazing performances filled with singing, dancing, and humor. There were two art shows: one during the fall semester and one during the spring semester, as well as regional recognition for Lady Bird. Students also had the opportunity to go to the Lenaea Theatre Festival again and singers in classes, such as Chamber Singers, had noteworthy achievements.

The Boy Friend, a lively production that had the entire audience laughing, was about a rich British girl at a boarding school in France who falls in love with a boy; however, she isn't allowed to have a boyfriend because she's rich and oftentimes, people only want her money. In a previous interview, cast member Catherine Gisla '19 described the theatre community at St. Francis as "amazing" and said that the crew are always there to "encourage you and help you out with everything you need."

At the beginning of December of 2017, St. Francis also hosted the Christmas Music Concert on two nights. The concert was a success and later in the year, students in the singing classes were given the opportunity to be able to go to regional performances and or concerts that are widely recognized. Marissa Gandolfo-Gillaspy '19, a member of the Chamber Choir class, said about the choir performances, "I leave every chamber choir performance inspired by the power of music and grateful to be a part of a great community of voices."

The Chamber Choir class also had the opportunity to go to the Golden State Women's Choral Competition in March. The class is comprised of students from different grade levels and according to an Instagram post by the school, staff were invited to go see the singers before they went to the competition. At the Golden State Women's Choral Competition, students from across the Northern California region are brought together represent their school and have the chance to perform in front of large audiences.

Two Gentlemen of Verona was also another production on campus. Similar to The Boy Friend, it was a laugh-filled production that was based on the Archie comics. Two Gentlemen of Verona generated a lot of popularity because of how entertaining it was.

This year's Second Saturday Art Show, which took place both during the fall and spring semesters, featured art pieces from the different classes offered here at St. Francis. It had photos from the photography classes as well as paintings, and drawings.

This year, some theatre students who had participated in One Acts had the opportunity to go to Lenaea. Lenaea is a theatre festival that takes place over three days and showcases theatre productions. The students who went to the Lenaea Theatre Festival won third place for their production, which was titled "Property Rites." Property Rites was about Kyle Macmanus (portrayed by Fiona Ross '19), who had spent millions of dollars in building fifteen sculptures. Kyle had programmed these sculptures to fulfill actions with movements, dialogues, and more. Kyle is going to sell this structure but before he can do so, the structures come to life and the structures themselves work to achieve autonomy and begin to concoct a plan against Kyle. Other cast members included Laura Roberts '19, Samantha Garaygay '18, Mackenzie Holmes '20, Olivia Sloss '19, Aurora Giacobbe '20, Gabriella Thomas '19, Kalia Rucker '18, Ella Chalmers '21, Carson Killer '20, Maizie Steyding '19, and Natalie Edgar '20. The act was directed by Kiera Anderson and Cheryl Watson, both of whom teach theatre classes at St. Francis. The Lenaea High School Theatre Festival brings together schools all across California and is the largest high school theatre festival that takes place west of the Mississippi.

Open Mic Night, which took place in February, gave students a chance to be able to perform their talents for friends and family. Hula, ERA, and teachers had the chance to perform. At Open Mic Night, students sang and danced, some with friends.

There were also choir performances and dance performances. International Night will be taking place on Wednesday, April 18th, 2018. International Night will showcase performances by the Modern & Classical Language classes, including the Spanish and Italian classes, that will celebrate the cultures that the classes study through the use of dancing and singing. The students onstage will wear cultural dresses or costumes that will represent the cultures. Every year, this is a fun and lively production that can be a learning experience if one learns about another culture that they didn't really know about previously, such as their style of dancing or the use of colors in the costumes and what role they play.

Freshman Class Recap

By IZABELLA LEMUS '21

Our homecoming week experience was exciting, nerve-racking, stressful, confusing, and the best and most fun week of school. From our preps to our cheer and song practices, everyone gave their all. With all the hard work the Simbas put in, the freshman class did better than we could've possibly imagined. On Monday, we started off with the canned food drive; this was a challenging day since most of us didn't realize how many cans were really needed. Tuesday was sports day, and we tied first place with the sophomores and the seniors. This really brought our spirits up, proving to ourselves and others that we had a chance. Throughout the next couple of days, we started to wrap up our float, songs, and cheers. Thursday evening, everyone came together and used teamwork to get through the night. The next day was our big day, the rally, where we got to show everyone how far we had come over the week and give it our all. I know I wouldn't change a thing, especially for it being our first year.

Junior Class Recap

By HELEN HOFFART '19 and ROSE CONLIN '19

Junior year...what to say about junior year? Junior year has definitely been a roller coaster of emotions. It has finally hit all of us that we keep on growing up and there is no possible way to stop time from moving forward. 24 hours in a day...8 hours spent at school...2 hours for sports or academic teams...and an endless amount of hours for homework... and of course we have to have enough time for our naps. Junior year is often explained as one of the hardest years of high school and there is probably not a single Thumper who would disagree; however, through these challenges we have all grown closer as class.

The first day of Junior Year, we were filled with pride as we stepped onto campus as the new upperclassmen, then we were hit with the workload and rigor of Junior Year. We soon moved into Homecoming season and the spirit within the class immediately picked up. Everyone was helping; whether it was donating cans, showing up to sports day practice, or helping after school. Homecoming week was a whirlwind of emotions. The Junior class experienced the high points and definitely experienced the low points, but we did it as a class. For me, like many girls here at Saint Francis, Homecoming week is my favorite time during the school year. I get to interact with girls in my class that I normally never would. As the holidays approached, so did finals. As well as stress, the air was full of holiday cheer. Friends celebrated with gifts exchanges and holiday celebrations, while getting to forget, at least for a few minutes, the challenge of finals. Of course, like always, everyone survived finals and got a well-deserved break. 2018 was welcomed in and we returned back to school. The second semester was kicked off with a party in the USA. Everyone danced, sang, and had an overall great time at the Junior Senior Open Dance. We jumped right back into our school work, sports, and extracurriculars without skipping a beat.

As we head into AP exams and finals, stress levels rise, but we can always fall back onto our fellow Thumpers. Overall, Junior year has been wild, and with the help of each other we have been able to (almost) make it through to Senior year.

Senior Class Recap

By GRACE CONLIN '18

Senior year has been a trip. We've experienced the highest of highs and the lowest of lows, but we've done it all together. The year started off with Senior Sunrise, a symbolic event that also provided great lighting for us to capture our youthful, hopeful faces before the reality of college apps set in. We relished the opportunity to showcase our cutest college sweatshirts, and smiled through the pain of the age old question: "So that's where you're going then?" No, but if a sweatshirt is cute, we're going to wear it. Even if the college does have a -10% acceptance rate.

Homecoming was soon knocking at the door, and the Class of 2018 certainly answered. The Force wasn't just with them- they were the Force. And one to be reckoned with too. They reached for the stars, and found the win they were looking for. Their decorations were out of this world.

When it comes to skit, everyone knows our class can plan- et to perfection. This year featured rows of synchronized Storm Troopers, galactic light displays, and witty dialogue. All in all, it was a victory talked about near and far, far away, and a great way to celebrate our final Homecoming Week.

Then came finals, which were slightly less miserable than usual when we reminded ourselves that they were quite possibly the last finals we would ever take at SF (I mean, there's always college finals to look forward to but we're not gonna talk about those).

The New Year came around, and for many it was hard to believe that 2018 was finally here. "Class of 2018" took on a whole new meaning. Our year had finally arrived. Before we knew it school was back in session, we had finished our final college apps, and now settled down to wait for decision season in April.

Second semester is when it has finally hit home that our time at SF is drawing to a close. We are making big decisions about where we are spending the next four years, what we'll be doing, and where our studies will take us. We are preparing for a new kind of independence, a new kind of lifestyle. We have made the most of our remaining time at Saint Francis, enjoying the company of our friends, reminiscing with our teachers, and frequenting all the favorite spots we have found over the years. Of course the approach of graduation also means that a serious case of senioritis has spread, especially after a Spring Break that felt a bit too much like summer.

Nevertheless, the Class of 2018 has made every moment count. We've laughed, cried, cheered, and learned together. We've never stopped swimming, and we certainly aren't about to stop now. So congratulations to the Se-

Senior Surveys

By THE MANDOLIN EDITING STAFF

For this year's Senior Surveys, we asked the Class of 2018 to answer four questions:

1) What college will you be attending? 2) Describe your St. Francis experience in 3 words. 3) What is your favorite piece of the SF uniform? 4) What is your advice to underclassmen?

1. Lauren Allen
2. Missouri University of Science & Technology
3. Stressful, meaningful, unmatched
4. SF Sports Sweatshirts on Fridays
5. Make friends with underclassmen so you have an honor guard.

1. Aiyu Aimufua
2. The University of Pennsylvania
3. one wild ride
4. Skirt
5. make friends and have fun, these 4 years fly by don't waste them

1. Alexis Areias
2. University of Southern California

3. Best experience omg
4. The old SF sweatshirt!
5. Do your best to meet everyone you can. You only have four years here, and there are so many relationships to be made. Don't pass up that opportunity, because the girls at this school are incredible. Make the most of your time here, because before you know it, you'll blink and it's over. #MLISF

1. Reesa Artz
2. Sweet Briar College
3. memorable, inspiring, encouraging
4. Sweatshirt
5. Be yourself! I know that it is much easier said than done. When you are showing your real personality to the world you will attract friends that will love you for who you are.

1. Sydney Baichtal
2. Chico State
3. challenging, unique, fun
4. Fleece Pullover
5. Work hard, it will come back and serve you well :)

1. Niki Barnes
2. TCU
3. Memorable Exciting Lively
4. the skirt
5. Keep the precious and small moments you have at Saint Francis close to your heart because when

- senior year comes around, those are the moments that matter the most.
1. Annie Barrett
  2. Idaho State University
  3. challenging, fun, adventurous
  4. the jacket
  5. High school goes by really fast so try not to want to be an upperclassman and just enjoy where you're at right now in your life because that's where you're supposed to be.
1. Kristen Bartow
  2. UC Santa Barbara
  3. Educational, stress, confidence
  4. red vest
  5. Keep working hard each year. High school is definitely a marathon not a sprint. You can do it :)
1. Anna Veronica Bourke
  2. University of San Francisco
  3. 1) Ever-lasting 2) Unique 3) Growth
  4. Fleece 3/4 Zip-Up
  5. Enjoy your time while in high school, especially St. Francis because there is no other school like it. Take time to realize that you shouldn't be hard on yourself. One does not have to take multiple AP and Honor classes to get into college. Effort and quality over quantity will have the most effect on your grades/work and personal growth. Lastly, love yourself. Learning to accept who you are will help you in the long-run with decision making both in and outside of school; love of oneself will help build you as strong female changers of the world.
1. Maddie Brown
  2. Cal Poly San Luis Obispo
  3. Growth, opportunities, and friendship

My advice to underclassmen is to keep up on your school work but always remember to have fun   | 5. When you become old like us seniors and look back at your four years at St. Francis, what do you want to remember? The unforgettable friends you'll keep in touch with for eons? The goofy stakeouts at McDonald's at 1 am after a dance? The satisfying feeling of understanding math after hours of endless studying? How about... all of the above?! Although your time here is limited, make each memory feel eternal. At the end, academics aren't the only reason you are here at this amazing community of future leaders, artists, scientists, writers, actors, and so much more! Always try something new and never be afraid to try new things that may test your boundaries -- the worst thing someone can say is no! No matter what you do, you can stand out by just being authentic to yourself, and honestly, that's the best piece of advice I can give. "Cherish your yesterdays, dream your tomorrows and live your todays." |
